IEEE and its members inspire a global community through IEEE and its members inspire a global community through highly-cited publications, conferences, technology standards and professionals as well as educational activities. IEEE creates an environment where members collaborate on world-changing technologies - from computing and sustainable energy systems, to aerospace, communications, robotics, health care, and more.

MISSION

“To foster technological innovation and excellence for the benefit of humanity.”

IEEE membership is open for any individual who belongs to an IEEE designated field by education or profession. Engineering, Computer Science & Information Technology, Physical Science, Biological & Medical Science, Mathematics, Technical Communications, Education, Management and Law are all IEEE designated fields. This indicates that IEEE no longer serves only for electrical and electronics engineers. Members from various different domains can excel in their studies and careers via IEEE membership.
Held every three years since 1984, IEEE Sections Congress provides IEEE Section leaders with a venue for expressing opinions and concerns through recommendations for action, which will be used by the IEEE Board of Directors to guide IEEE into the future.

An event which includes three days of working sessions and networking, Sections Congress will attract more than a thousand delegates from all over the world. At the Congress, the delegates are given the chance to learn how to utilize the resources of IEEE to maximize their effectiveness as IEEE volunteer leaders and express ideas about how IEEE can better serve its members, now and going forward. The issues identified at Sections Congress have had a major impact on the plans made by the IEEE leadership for the future of IEEE.

OBJECTIVES

- Networking – To network and build relationships with others
- Skills enhancement – To provide an opportunity for delegates to gain information and leadership skills
- Way Forward- To serve as a forum for Section representatives and other local leaders, enabling them to voice, on behalf of the collective membership, the ideas, issues, and recommendations that will impact the development and growth of IEEE throughout the world; hence reinforcing its vitality and relevance to those it serves
